

Well, the European Union has been a disappointment, the European Union professes itself to be a union of values based on human rights, and democracy and freedom and yet it has put its head in the sand when it comes to issues like the extraordinary renditions in which a number of European Governments are alleged, reported to have colluded with the CIA and they have done nothing about coming out clean, about taking steps to prevent such recurrences.